We are reaching out to share important news concerning the pricing of residential roofing products. Our vendor partners have recently informed us of impending price increases on shingle and roofing accessory products, effective April 1, 2024. These adjustments, varying by product and manufacturer, may result in an increase up to 6% on shingles and up to 12% on residential accessories.

We understand the potential impact on your business operations, especially in terms of quoting jobs and planning for upcoming projects. Recognizing the importance of providing adequate notice, we want to ensure that you can adjust your pricing strategies accordingly and make informed decisions.

As your dedicated partner, we want to assure you of our commitment to delivering competitive pricing despite these challenges. Our team is actively assessing the impact on your account and will keep you updated as we navigate through this adjustment together.
